FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

WEDNESDAY, April 20-6 Post

There was an active movement in the stock market this morning, but prices were by no means firm. The improvement of the past day or two has been lost, and things in the street look like relapsing into the same dull, heavy state, previously noticed. It appears impossible to get up a strong, healthy, decided forward movement in fancy stocks. As a general thing, their market value is therefore up hill work to start any speculations. There is, in fact, no margin, except for a decline. There are, it class of fancies. Parker Vein has the material for an will be made available. Its line of freighting steamships is destined to give a very great income. At present prices it is the chapest stock on the market. Morris Canal bas all the elements of improvement, but at present they are not active. Holders are sanguine, and we see no reason why their anticipations should not be fully realized. The stock is firm at our quotations. Nicaragus Transit was operated in to day to some extent. Hudson Railroad looks pretty well. It has advanced several per cent within the past for the stock. This road will do a very extensive business during the approaching travelling season. Erie Railroad is sustained by holders, without the least prospect of any improvement beyond present prices. From this time out there will be greater competition for West-ern traffic and travel than has heretofore been known, and we look for such reductions in charges as will prove ruipous to nearly all concerned. Last year we had but two lines of rational connecting the Atlantic seaboard with the West; we now have four. The Parker Vein steamships, in connection with the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, will take an immense quantity of freight which has heretofore been taken over the Erie Railroad. The Central line, through Pennsylvania, will take a large amount of freight. These roads will draw enormously from the Erie road, and we shall soon see in the monthly returns of that company the effect on its revenues. Cumberland and Phoenix Coal stocks are not in active demand. The operations are confined almost entirely to the purpose of attracting outsiders. It is our opinion that outsiders have had enough of these fancies, and will let them alone. Cumberland, particularly, is in bad odor, and but for the transactions of parties deeply interested among themselves the market value would sink much below that now ruling. We shall see a collapse one of these days.

per cent; Parker Vein, %; St. Lawrence Mining Co., %; Panama Railroad, 1; N. J. Zinc advanced % per cent; Florence and Keyport, 34; Krie Railroad, 14; Michigan Southern Railroad, 134; Sixth Avenue Railroad, 1. Most of the transactions were on time, buvers option.

At the second board the market was not so buoyant, but a pretty fair demand continued for the leading fancies. Cumberland Coal declined 35 per cent; Erie Railroad, %; Long Island, %; Florence and Keyport, %. road, %.
The receipts at the office of the Assistant Treasurer of this port to day amounted to $173,658 38; payments, $213,686 01—balance $6,741,881 03.

This is the day fixed for opening the canals of this place in consequence of the failure of some of the contractors to complete their work. The delay will not be more than a day or two. The Bank of Cape Fear has declared a semi-annual dividend of four per cent.

The trustees of the St. Lawrence Lead Mining Company have issued the annexed circular to stockholders. The finances of the company appear to be in a bad way. The bonds will bring a very low figure:-

bonds will bring a very low figure:—

I am instructed to inform you that twenty of the $500 bonds of this company, (issued, as authorized by the stockholders at the special meeting held on the 7th of March last,) were, by order of the trustees, offered for sale by auction, by Mr. Simeon Deaper, at the Merchants' Exchange, in this city, this day, but no blidding was made thereon. The affairs of the company requiring an immediate supply of funds, the trustees have reselved to offer the amme amount again for sale without reserve, at the same place, on Friday, the 22d instant, at 12 M., when and where they solicit your attendance.

The steamship Europa, for Liverpool to-day, carried with three days' later intelligence from Europe, we learn that the Chancellor of the Exchequer of Great Britain has made public his plan, by which he proposes an entire revolution in the national debt of the United Kingdom. We have not received the result of the debate in Parliament on the resolutions, but the matter met with a great deal of opposition in financial circles. About two thirds of the public debt of Great Britain bears three per cent interest, and the other third three and a quarter per cent interest. The three and a quarter per cents will, in 1855, by the terms of a former conversion, become three per cents. The old three per cents are, therefore, the stocks upon which a reduction is proposed. These stocks are called "Consols," and "Reduced," "South Sea Annuities," and "Bank Annuities." The Consols and Reduced amount to £494,088,474, and the South Sea and Bank Annuities to £10,000,638. It is this last amount that the Chancellor of the Exchequer proposes to pay off or reduce. Holders of the stocks composing that sum, by giving notice on or before May 6, 1853, may receive for every £100 stock, £100—in money. £82 10s.—of a new 3½ per cent stock, guaranteed against reduction of interest for forty years, and which will yield an annual interest of £2 17s. 9d. £110-of a 2% per cent stock, also guaranteed against reduction of interest for forty years, and yielding annually £2 15a.—or £100 Exchequer bond, bearing 214 per cent for ten years, and 2% per cent for thirty years, when the principal will become payable at par. After the 5th of January, 1854, the interest on the above named 3 per cent stocks, proposed to be compulsorily reduced, shall cease, and parties not acceding to the government proposal shall be paid off. Holders of con-sols or reduced may also convert their stock, on giving notice by the 10th October, 1853, into either of the ne stocks or Exchequer bonds, on the same terms. The London News says the financial scheme of the Prolish government has not injured the value of the public securities. English consols were quoted at the closing of the mail at 100% a 100% for money. The three-anda-quarter per cent stocks have improved in value, closing at 102% a 102%, ex dividend Great attention has become directed to the three and a quarter per cent stock, which is considered to be much improved in real value, as, after being reduced to a three per cent stock from the 10th of October, 1854, it stands then guaranteed against any further reduction for twenty years. It is consequently inferred that this will be the preferable stock for trus accounts, and other fixed investments of a kindred nature. Railway guaranteed stocks, and, in a certain degree, ordi pary railway stocks, would be likely to rise in demand. and in its general effect the tendency of the measure would be to enhance the value of all substantial investments.

favorable than those received by the Pacific. Quotations for cotton were steady, with a fair amount of business doing. Breadstuffs remained without alteration, with a moderate demand.

The Alexandria, Loudons and Hampshire Railroad Company, was chartered by the General Assembly of Virginia at its late session, with a capital of $3,500,000, for the purpose of constructing a railroad from Alexandria, through Loudonn county, to the coal fields of Hampshire county, Virginia. The charter provides for a subscription by the State of three-fifths of $1,200,000 of the capital, to be applied to the construction of the road east of the Shenandesh river, with a provision that, within that limit the State will subscribe for $60,000 for every $40,000 taken by other solvent parties. Subscriptions to its stock by the principal coal companies are also prowided for. The books are to be opened at Alexandria and Washington city, and various points on the line, on the 20th of the present month. The road will pass through several of the most wealthy, populous and fertile counties of the State, which would alone furnish suffi-cient travel and transportation to make it profitable stock, independent of the coal trade. As regards this believed this company will have the only route at all adapted to it in point of grades; and the distance by it from the coal region to Alexandria will not be less than fifty, and will probably be eighty, miles less than the distance to Baitimore. We have every reason to believe, too, that there will be a connection with the Connellaville Railroad to Pittsburg, which will secure a vast amount of travel to the seat of the general government and the South, besides much that would prefer this route to Baltimore and the eastern cities, by the way of Washington. Leaving mere probabilities, however, out of view, we have reliable information, going to prove that the proposed road will have the only practicable routs to the coal fields, as it a leady been satisfactorily ascertained that the best with an avery full prices have been realized. Sales were information, going to prove that the proposed road will have the only practicable route to the coal fields, as it among the others which have been chartered or proposed will have grades of eighty-seven feet beyond the Blue Ridge, and have actually grades of eighty five feet this side of it, with very b d curves. As a point for the shipment of coal Alexandria cannot be surpassed, and it is rapidly rising in importance as a market for breadstuffs. Upon the whole, we have authority for the assertion that this road is deserving of the serious attention and active co operation of the large coal interests now located in this city, whose properties are situated in the region which it is intended to penetrate. The company will doubtless, however, he soon organized, and careful and thorough surveys made of the whole route, when probability will give place to facts, and the Virginia and Maryland not to commit their faith or their means to other schemes, of which enough will no doubt be pressed upon their attention.
